

again. I'm married but have only lived with my wife for 3 months. This February we'll have been married a year. I'm telling you this because I want you to know that I feel what I'm doing is right. We're fighting a war to show the communist that we're not going to let them spread their doctrine and run rough shod over anyone they want too.

I hope I've helped you reconcile your feelings. One day I might possibly be able to see you and talk to you. I feel the same regret that all of us in the Army feel when one of our comrades fall. I hope to hear from you again.
